

What if ...

I went for a swim in the ocean.

It was there I had the notion,

What if I grew gills,

a tail,

big black eyes,

And a fin on my back like a sail?

Then I could always stay in the water,

And never my mother would holler!